

A COMPLETELY CANDID COMPLETE MEAL.

For all those times when making real healthy food is a real pain—a meal in a bottle made from real organic ingredients that keep hunger at bay without cutting corners.

At Niamito, we never liked the idea that food should be complicated, fake, or boring.

So we made something different: a real organic meal you can grab when life gets messy, busy, or beautifully unpredictable.

Every Niamito is proof that convenience doesn't need shortcuts.

It's organic.

It's clean label.

It's plant-based.

Made with ingredients your mind understands and your body trusts. To us, this isn't just another product. It's the beginning of a movement toward food that is honest, simple, and made for real life.

ALL GAIN, NO PAIN.

Healthy

Made with a balanced nutritional profile, all Niamito products proudly carry a Nutri-Score A.

All-natural

We go the extra mile to make sure everything we put into our products is naturally sourced and organic certified.

Ideal for on-the-go

All Niamito products are designed to bring you hassle-free, high-quality hunger relief wherever your day takes you.

Light yet filling

Made with oats, pea protein and healthy fats, Niamito is plant-based to give you long-lasting fullness that won't weigh you down.

We don't just pick and choose our ingredients. We grow them on our organic farm.

Niamito is just one of the ventures supported by LoginEKO, where we develop and test practical solutions, including our large-scale organic farming model, food development, and traceability tools, using real data, certified organic production, and full transparency, from seed to final product.

That's why all our products can wear their contents on their sleeve. All it takes is a quick click.
